Over one thousand (1000) brand new books and a microwave oven have been donated to secondary schools across St. Vincent and the Grenadines by a UK based charitable organization called SEAKAid.

“We at the Ministry are extremely fortunate to have so many partners at our side - local, regional, and international, and we are grateful for the generosity and support that our students and our schools continue to receive. We recognize the value in partnerships, and we welcome them as we seek to strengthen and transform education” – Kay Martin-Jack, Chief Education Officer
